

Kenny Litvack

Baritone

KENNY LITVACK, baritone, studied vocal music education at James Madison University in Harrisonburg, Virginia (B.M. '04). He studied voice with Sandra Fox Cryder and Dr. Carrie Stevens, conducting with Dr. Susan L. Reid, and sang with the JMU Chorale and Madison Singers. Kenny is in his 12th season as a member of the professional core of Princeton Pro Musica, and has sung with many area choirs, churches, and synagogues as both chorister and soloist. A grant writer for a Princeton-based educational non-profit, Kenny also teaches voice lessons to students in grade 9 and beyond.

