

Lois Laverty

Conductor

LOIS LAVERTY taught in the voice department of her Alma Mater, Westminster Choir College, for 31 years, while also leading the music at All Saints' Church for 20 years.

Her association with PSMA began over 60 years ago, playing violin in her student days. Later she sang as soprano, then alto soloist, then played viola, and finally conducted about 30 sessions, most of them Gilbert and Sullivan.