

Matthew Lee

Baritone

MATTHEW LEE, baritone, was born and raised in Prentiss, Mississippi (45 minutes northwest of Hattiesburg, MS) and completed his undergraduate education at the University North Texas in 2016 with a Bachelor's Degree in Choral Music Education. Matt currently attends Westminster Choir College in Princeton, NJ pursuing a master's degree in Choral Conducting. At Westminster, he sings in the nationally acclaimed Westminster Choir, Westminster Symphonic Choir, and Kantorei, the early music ensemble. Prior to attending Westminster Choir College, Matthew was a high school choir teacher in Texas where his choirs were consistently awarded superior by the Texas University Scholastic League (UIL) standards. Aside from school, he is an active church musician. Over the last ten years, he has served as Director of Music in Mississippi, Texas, and New Jersey. Currently, he serves as the Director of Music at St. Mark Lutheran Church, in Hamilton NJ.

In his free time, Matt enjoys fine wine, food, traveling, and spending time with his husband Tyler Moquin (whom he married in the summer of 2018), and their dog, Luther. When he is not studying for school, he enjoys reading about Lutheran theology and poetry.
