

Michael Tedesco

Bass

MICHAEL TEDESCO began his journey as a vocalist at the American Boychoir School, and eventually attended Westminster Choir College as a Voice Performance major. While at Westminster, Mr. Tedesco was a member and featured soloist of Williamson Voices, and the renowned Westminster Choir. Mr. Tedesco has performed roles such as Pish-Tush in The Mikado and was seen as Private Willis in Iolanthe with the Princeton Society of Musical Amateurs. In 2007, Mr. Tedesco made his opera debut as a chorus member in The Rise and Fall of the City of Mahagony and in 2008 in The Amistad at the Spoleto Festival in Charleston, SC. Mr. Tedesco has been a member of many professional choirs, including the Choir of St. James Long Branch, the Choir of All Saints' Princeton, and the esteemed Anam Cara, under the direction of Dr. James Jordan. Mr. Tedesco's discography includes Innisfree: Choral Music of Hopes, Dreams, and Living.; Litton Live! A Farewell Concert; and Westminster Choir's Flower of Beauty.