

Sage Lutton

Mezzo-soprano

Mezzo-soprano SAGE LUTTON holds vocal performance and pedagogy degrees from The College of New Jersey and Westminster Choir College. She has performed as a chorister in many operas with the Princeton Festival, and as a returning soloist with the Bryn Athyn Orchestra and with Abington Presbyterian Church's Music at Abington series. This year marks her 13th season with The Princeton Singers and Jerome Brandt's Skylark Ensemble. Sage has twice been the Finkel Artist-in-Residence at Lehigh University, where she performed two area premieres by Steven Sametz, Music's Music, and Three Biblical Songs.

Sage cantors at St. John Vianney Church in Colonia, NJ. She can be heard as a guest artist on recordings of both original compositions and popular music arrangements by her mother, Mary Koth Lutton.
